NILES PROGRAM WILL BE BROADCAST OVER RADIO STATION KZM

W. J. Helm, Chairman Of Committee For Arrangements

Advantages and benefits of living in Niles will be broadcast over station KZM at Hayward some Tuesday in the near future, W. J. Helm being appointed chairman of the committee to arrange the program, at the Tuesday noon luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce.

Frank Dusterberry, president of the Centerville Service Club was present to enlist the aid of the Niles group in putting over the Charity Ball to be given at the Garden of Allah on April 13 for the purpose of raising Washington's quota of the fund to support the Children's Home and other obligations of the Children's Department of the Welfare Board.

Following Mr. Dusterberry's talk the Chamber made plans to dispose of their share of the tickets.

It was also voted to request the local representative in the legislature to vote against the proposed bill to change the time of making out the school budget. It is suggested that the budget be made in February instead of June as previously customary but it seems that they favor continuing as usual instead of making the change.

Important Meeting of Prune And Apricot Growers Monday

All prune and apricot growers of the district are asked to attend a meeting at Leal Theater, Irvington, on Monday evening, April 1, at 8 o'clock.

It is important to every grower that he be present at this meeting, to become acquainted with the danger to his interest in case the prune and apricot association is compelled to liquidate on April 6 because of local support.

At the time of this writing, 62,000,000 pounds of prunes out of the 100,000,000 pounds required has been signed up. The apricot situation is more serious as out of the 8,000,000 pounds required only 2,000,000 pounds has been signed.

Richard Clendennin, of Berkeley, has been instructing members of the cast. The play has been produced by professionals, having a successful run of two years in New York. Mystery, fun, romance—all contrive to keep the interest keen and provide a laugh a minute.

The plot hinges on Mr. Brown's staying out all night, claiming that he was with a certain friend and Mrs. Brown's sending a telegram to said friend at what her husband considers a fictitious address, but—only that would be telling and the only way to satisfy your curiosity will be to attend the performance next Thursday evening.

Bob Boyer plays the part of Mr. Temple, the erring husband, and Mrs. R. L. Pond, impersonates Mrs. Temple, the suspicious wife. Cyril Attwood plays Frank Fuller, alias John Brown and Mrs. J. E. Townsend, Mrs. Frank Fuller. Miss Margaret Moore is the heroine, Dorothy, Mr. Temple's niece and her lover is the English captain, Bill Jones.

Sunday and Monday the first talkie in Niles will be open to the public. The picture will be "Submarine" starring prominent actors. This will be the only theater offering talking pictures between Oakland and San Jose.

Saturday night movie fans will be pleased to see Tom Mix in his latest picture, "The Drifter." As usual he is acting his best, ready to thrill and excite you with his daring.

Wednesday and Thursday brings "The Last Warning." One of those pictures that you read about and hardly ever see. Don't miss these splendid opportunities for real entertainment.

Jack Holt, Dorothy Revier and Ralph Graves will star in "Submarine," said to be one of the most thrilling triumphs ever appearing on Broadway. The picture sings and talks and you hear the hiss of the steam, the boom of the guns and the whir of the planes.

Next week the "Bellamy Trial," an all-talking picture appearing in Oakland this week, will be shown in Niles. It was to have been the opening feature here, Manager Helm stated, but due to the overwhelming size of the West Coast theaters organization the Niles theater will be compelled to run one week behind the Oakland program. "This will be all the better for us," said Mr. Helm. "The picture will prove itself a good show in Oakland and will make our local patrons want to see it. Niles people should do their theater-going in Niles. We expect to offer the same high-class entertainment available in the city and we solicit the patronage of our fellow-townsmen."

Prominent Newark Civic Worker Drowned In San Joaquin River

Seldom in recent years has Newark been shocked as it was last Saturday morning when word spread rapidly that Ben W. Laskey had been drowned the preceding evening in the San Joaquin river near Stockton.

Friday noon Mr. Laskey, in company of Arthur Hempleman, left Newark intending to spend the week-end at Paradise Dam on the San Joaquin fishing. On arriving at the river, they found the water rough; but Mr. Laskey was not to be stayed in his sport. He ventured out in a small boat, and in a short while missed his footing and lunged into the stream. Being unable to swim, he sank. His companion was unable to rescue him. The body was recovered the next day at the place where it had gone down.

Funeral services were conducted in St. Edward's Catholic church in Newark Monday morning, March 25, by Father John Francis Casey, and the remains were laid to rest in the Centerville-Newark cemetery. Scores of sympathetic friends attended, and the services were very impressive.

Ben W. Laskey was born in Poland November 11, 1878. When yet a boy he emigrated to America with a number of companions. He soon drifted to Chicago where he began to learn the trade of molder which he followed almost continuously up to the time of his death. In 1906 he was united in marriage with Miss Anna Gir-den in Kansas City, Kansas. The next year the young couple came west and located in San Francisco. Chance finally brought the family to Newark where Mr. Laskey has been employed since 1919 with the Graham Manufacturing Company.

Mr. Laskey has been very active in social and civic affairs. For a number of years he has been an active worker in the chamber of commerce, and at the time of his death he was a boy scout committeeman. He helped to organize the Newark boy scout troop and for a number of years he was the most active worker that the troop had. He was a member of the Woodmen lodge and of the Moulders' Union. During the trouble with Mexico in 1916-17 he distinguished himself as a soldier in his government's service.

The deceased is survived by a wife and five children. A son, Bruno, resides in Stockton, Irene, Edward and Ben attend the township high school, and Walter attends the local grammar school. He is also survived by a brother who lives somewhere in the East.

Mr. and Mrs. Leopold Falk and infant son and Mrs. Smith of San Francisco visited her friends here Sunday.

Mr. Henry Josten, who had been ill for several weeks, passed away Monday afternoon at O'Connor's Sanitarium, San Jose. High Mass was said at St. Edward's church here, Father Casey officiating. The body was sent East to Aurora, Illinois, where burial will take place.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dittman accompanied the body. Mrs. Dittman was Mr. Josten's sister.

Miss Lorene Wyatt is home for a two months stay with her parents.

Many Newark baseball fans attended the baseball game between the Oaks and the Missions on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Norval Turnbow drove to Stockton where they visited relatives over the week-end.

Miss Kathleen Pope and Miss Adele Steinhoff spent last Sunday afternoon playing tennis at the Hayward Tennis Court.

Mr. Roy Colbourn of Richmond visited with friends here Sunday.

The Netop Camp Fire Girls held a business and social meeting at the home of Miss Mildred Dias on Monday evening.

Mr. Harland Johnson has once more resumed his position with the Morton Salt Co. after several weeks of severe illness.

Stranger Attempts To Accost Local Women

A good deal of indignation was caused Thursday night. We pride ourselves on the fact that women are able to walk on the streets alone at night, at any time, without molestation. A lady living in the western end of town was followed by a strange man. She could hardly believe that this was the case, but when she turned toward home and he quickened his steps—she ran screaming into the neighbor's home. It took only a few minutes to call Constable Silva. The man said he was from Oakland; that he mistook this lady for his wife. It was noticed that he had a big black bottle with him. Constable Silva locked him up for the night. The next day he apologized profusely, and vowed he would never come again if allowed to depart. He went—but what became of his big black bottle?

Jones told of his recent trip to Sacramento and of the arguments for and against the County Unit Bill which he heard there, the measure later being defeated. A letter from Radio Station KZM was read offering time on Tuesday to the Centerville Service Club over that club. The matter was tabled for further discussion.

Due to the fact that E. B. Hodges, principal of the High School was in Oakland, President Frank Dusterberry took his place and Mr. Hodges will be chairman of the day next week. Reports from the main street paving committee signified progress in that improvement program.

FLAG CONTEST

Washington Union High School has entered the Nation wide Flag Contest under the leadership of Mr. Gatchel. The material has arrived and extensive study of the flag must be made. There are seventy-five questions to be answered and an essay to be written. You are given a number of points for each question right, fifty points for subject matter, and fifteen points for delivery. The essay must not exceed five minutes; if it does a number of points are deducted. Neatness and legibility count in both answers to questions and in the essay. There will be a number of prizes; the highest being a trip around the world. Other prizes are: A trip to Washington and points of interest, medals, and scholarships. The prize winners will be expected to write of their trips and their ideas on the flag for the Hearst newspapers—the sponsors of this contest. Assumed names must be used on the essays, and the jury of awards is to set a day for the reading of the best essays. It seems like there is going to be a busy month ahead for Mrs. Wright and Mr. Gatchel, as there is a lot of reference work to be done.

If you see a student walking down the hall mumbling to himself don't be surprised—he is in the flag contest.

Graham-Paige Startles Australian Natives

Consistency of performance is one of the characteristics which is making the new Graham-Paige cars so popular, according to Frank Madruga of the Centerville Garage and Machine Shop, local Graham-Paige dealer.

"When a man buys one of our cars and drives it over a certain road in a certain time, he knows he can go back tomorrow, or next week, or next year and do precisely the same thing—assuming that weather and road conditions are comparable," said Madruga.

"Down in Australia a few days ago, a Graham-Paige startled all the natives by winning two events of a hill-climbing competition, over the same course, in exactly the same time. The competition was held on Zigzag Hill, at Lillydale, under auspices of the Royal Automobile club. The course is a series of hairpin turns on a heavy grade.

"The Graham-Paige entry first won the trade stock standard event in its class by making the 1,600-yard climb in 1.59 4-5. The same car then won the open event in precisely the same time. The Australians thought it was one of the most unusual demonstrations of car consistency and driving skill that had ever been recorded.

"Walter Whitbourn piloted the car in both events."

Our boys knocked five Hayward pitchers out of the box, while our "tiny" Ruben Ferry pitched the entire nine innings for Washington. ## HOLY WEEK SERMON PREPARED BY PASTOR OF THE IRVINGTON CHURCH

Notice: The writer is much indebted to the late Dr. Alexander White for much of the material in the above sermon.

The last week in Jesus' life was the beginning of the terrible sufferings which were to culminate on the cross and perhaps His greatest suffering was in the Garden of Gethsemane. It was during the last week of Jesus' life that he preached those terrible sermons in which he called the scribes and pharisees "hypocrites and whited sepulchres" and as he uttered these words he cast aside all restraint for he knew that they would never rest till they had killed him.

Now Gethsemane was the country home of a friend on the Mount of Olives and this friend had given Jesus permission to go there as often as He liked and rest, so Jesus was in the habit of going to the Garden every evening with His disciples.

On this particular night when they came into the garden He said to His disciples, "Sit ye here while I pray." And he took with him Peter and James and John. Leaving the others they went into the quiet seclusion of the trees which were planted on the grounds. Then Jesus withdrew from Peter and James and John and went by himself and knelt down and prayed. Notice that he was by himself. This was to be his last night on earth.

Now if you knew that you were going to your last agony tonight; if you knew that all your past sins would rise up before you, how many of us would you take with you when you went to pray and confess before God? Jesus took eleven with him, and then he found that he had taken too many, and then he picked out three and even these were too many so he withdrew by himself. And we are told that the disciples were heavy with sleep. In times of great sorrow and distress flesh and blood cannot help us—we have to be alone. It is between God and us.

Matthew says "he began to be very sorrowful and very heavy." The evangelists seem to find it hard to choose words which will tell us what Jesus suffered. Mark chooses the most striking words for he says, "he began to be sore amazed." Words always seem to fail in describing Jesus in anything he was or did. Books have been written about the sufferings of Jesus but we are left in the dark as much as ever. There were great waves of woe swept over his soul that night. We try to fathom the meaning of that night but we cannot and we need not try. We would have to be both man and God as he was to understand. We should need to be the Lamb of God as he was; We should need to be made sinless as he was, before we could begin to understand in what way he began to be sorrowful and very heavy. Martin Luther said that these words of Mark "he began to be sore amazed" were the most astonishing words in the whole Bible, and the fact that Martin Luther could say that shows us that he had a deep appreciation and experience of Jesus in his life. It proves to me that Martin Luther was in every sense a Christian man.

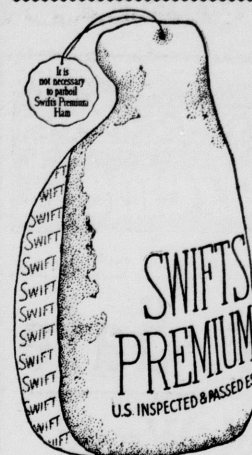

In these words we seem to be invited to look into the soul of Jesus and what we see amazes us for we see a gulf which we cannot fathom. What was it that so amazed Jesus in the Garden of Gethsemane? What was there that could amaze the Son of God. There was nothing under heaven that could amaze him but one thing and that one thing was a sin. At that terrible moment in the garden the sin of the whole world came upon his soul. It was sin laid upon him. He was made sin for us. Sin is so unspeakably evil and so unspeakably awful that the very Son of God was amazed at it. He had been amazed enough at what he had experienced during his life on earth. He had seen men, who had been made in the image of God, becoming the companions of very devils. He had seen sin making angels of heaven devils of hell and he had seen and had studied all his earthly days the malice, the envy, the wickedness of men. It had been amazement and horror enough to see the deceit and envy and pride and other such wickedness coming out of the heart of man. But it was a new thing to have all this poured upon himself. To be made sin amazed our lord. It absolutely overwhelmed him and cast him down in great agony—it loaded him and sickened him and brought him down to the depths of hell. Who can picture it. He longed for the sympathetic word of a friend but his disciples were all asleep. Twice he went to them but there was only stupid sleepiness there. He went out into the garden and with all the anguish of his soul begged if it were possible that the cup might be taken away.

The only thing in human experience comparable to it is the exceeding anguish which comes at times to God's saints when in their life of highest heavenly service they realize that they are made of sin. Oh, I know that sin is a word from a strange tongue today. There may be those here now who cannot understand what I am talking about. As the prophet Isaiah says, "All our righteousnesses are as filthy rags or as a polluted garment; or as Jacob says, 'I am not worthy of the least of all the mercies which thou hast showed unto me.'"

The story of Jacob is a story which illustrates just what I mean. Jacob had tricked his brother Esau out of his birthright and to save himself from his enraged brother he had to flee for his life. Now, many years after, Jacob seeks to return to his own country. He had sons and daughters and vast herds of cattle, sheep, and camels. As he nears the land of Edom messengers come to tell Jacob that Esau had refused his gifts and was coming as fast as he could travel at the head of 400 armed men. What a terrible plight to be found in. With all these women and children and cattle—was ever a man caught in a more cruel trap? He took them and sent them over the brook, and sent over all he had. And when the night fell, Jacob was left alone. Till every plunge of the angry brook and every roar of the midnight storm reminded Jacob of the smell of Esau's raiment, and the blow of

Three of the greatest oil companies on the Pacific Coast...Richfield, Union and Associated, chose Ethyl only after exhaustive laboratory tests and experiments had conclusively proved there was no other commercially practical anti-knock compound.

Today, forty-two leading oil companies throughout the world add Ethyl compound to their finest gasoline — answer to the universal demand for a genuine anti-knock fuel for the new high compression motors which are the standard of more than 68% of all our present day automobiles.

Because of the recognition from the world's greatest engineers, hundreds of so-called anti-knock, high-test gasolines have attempted to imitate Ethyl and to capitalize on its popularity. Do not be misled...remember that Ethyl made high compression motors possible and that only with Ethyl can you secure true high compression performance.

Use Ethyl gasoline in your own car, look for the pumps shown above...your assurance of getting genuine Ethyl!

SPENDING

IT has been said that only an aristocrat can make a spiritual use of leisure. The dream of the poor man is always a materialistic dream. The man who has fought all his life for bread will always give too much importance to bread. Only his next generation will turn to things of the mind.

There is a distinct pleasure to the cultured taste to shop in a distinctive store, or buy where one can use taste and personality in choosing goods.

The mob with their newly acquired money, pack the shoddy "Sales" of cheaply made "all alike" bargain days. Who in the end has really saved and received pleasure in selecting and spending?

MORE ON HOLY WEEK SERMON

for Jacob to try to justify himself. His sin had found him out. You know how hard, how cruel, it is to see yourself as others see you, and judge you; especially as those see you and judge you who have been injured by you. It is like death and hell pulling your body and soul in pieces to take to heart all your sin against your neighbor, as he takes it to his heart. And that is why Jacob at the brook has such a large place in your Bible: because, what you take so many years to do, Jacob did in one night of prayer. You surely all understand, and will not forget, what exactly it was that Jacob accomplished there that night? The evening sun was setting on Jacob planning and plotting as to how he could soften and bribe back to silence, if not to brotherly love, his powerful enemy Esau; but before the morning sun arose on Peniel, Jacob was at God's feet—and Esau's feet too—a heart broken, absolutely surrendered, an absolutely silent and submissive penitent. And the result of that prayer is seen in the morning when Esau comes—for God had been working on his heart—and Esau instead of slaying him wept and embraced him as his brother. That was what Jacob's prayer accomplished.

But Jacob at the brook always reminds us of Jesus in Gethsemane. It was just plain sin that amazed our lord. Sin! Nothing else. Take away the terrible wages of sin. Take away the awful remorse of being discovered and exposed. Take away the first and second death. Take away the day of Judgement and fire that is never quenched—all these are mere froth of the cup of sin. Take away all these and you have left just plain sin. That is what broke Jesus down in the Garden. That is what made his heart almost burst in his breast in the agony of the moment. That is what made the sweat stand out in drops of blood on His body. If you can understand that, you are within a stone's throw of the Garden of Gethsemane. Jesus needed an angel from Heaven to give him strength after that awful moment and you would need an angel from Heaven to give you strength if you ever came near enough to Jesus to understand His sufferings at that night.

It was not His approaching death that amazed Him. Death had no terrors for Him. He went up to meet His death with a calmness of mind and peacefulness of soul which astonished the Roman centurion and almost converted the Governor himself. No, it was not death but it was sin. It was that thing which we meet every day. It was that which we are so full of—which we drink up like water. It was that which perhaps never cost us an hour's sleep. It was that which never cost—it may be, a moment of pain, or shame, or amazement of soul. It was sin. It was hell-fire in His soul. It was the coals, and the oil, and the sin, and the juniper, and the turpentine of the fire that is not quenched. "The sorrows of death compassed me, and the pains of hell gat hold upon me. I found trouble and sorrow."

The hollow of Jacob's thigh was out of joint as he wrestled with the angel. But with all that, there is One here Who is far greater than our father Jacob. Jacob halted on his thigh indeed, as he passed Peniel. But our Lord's sweat was his agony, which was like great drops of blood representing an ocean of sin.

When the lights of the lanterns fell upon the garments of Jesus, whom they had come to arrest, they fell back in astonishment. His garments were stained with blood. There was no sword wound on His body but His hands and face were wet with the sweat of blood—the blood that was shed for your sins and mine. What a coat for which the soldiers cast lots! It was without seam, but—all the nitre and soap they could wash it with—could never remove those stains of blood which were indelibly stamped upon it. I wonder what became of that blood dyed garment.

"Who is this that cometh from Edom, with dyed garments from Bozrah? This that is glorious in His apparel, travelling in the greatness of His strength? I that speak in righteousness, mighty to save. Wherefore art thou red in thine apparel, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the wine vat? I have trodden the wine press alone; and of the people there was none with me." Isa. 63:1-3

RICHFIELD-ETHYL

Different from any other gasoline

Why it is different... and better!

RICHFIELD-ETHYL is better—noticeably better! It is as different from other Ethyl gasolines as they are different from ordinary motor fuels. This new Richfield will give you super qualities unobtainable in any other gasoline—the result of years of exhaustive laboratory tests based on knowledge gained in a decade of close contact with the speedways and great motor events, where it is used exclusively by the world's greatest drivers. Richfield's quality is proved, not merely claimed. In open competition with practically every known brand of gasoline, it has won more victories and world records than all others combined!

For seven consecutive years, Richfield has won the great Indianapolis speedway classic. Richfield was chosen by Captain Wilkins for his thrilling flight over the North Pole, by Art Goebel for his record-breaking transcontinental non-stop flight and by the "Question Mark" in its recent Army flight which broke all previous distance and duration records. Richfield's winning qualities have been carried one step further in Richfield-Ethyl—a super fuel that will give super results in every type of motor. Use it in your own car for the finest motor performance possible.
